About the conference

Digital media are part of younger children's world these days (3-7 years). From early age on, children play and learn with computers, surf the web or look at e-books on iPads. Universities of education for preschool and kindergarten teachers are challenged to discuss positive and negative aspects of daily media use of younger children. The european conference of ecoMedia «Digital media in kindergarten and preschool» in Switzerland invites all participants, students of teaching profession too, to exchange experiences about early media education and to participate by own contributions at the conference.
